Corporate Finance

Nelson Hardiman is proud to have strengthened our transactional practice with leading senior corporate finance attorneys from large firms who have enabled us to offer an unrivaled quality of advice in structuring and negotiating transactions. Banks and lenders, in addition to healthcare providers and private equity groups, frequently turn to Nelson Hardiman to address financing issues in healthcare and life science transactions.

The financial acumen of Nelson Hardiman is at the core of our ability to help our healthcare and life sciences clients succeed in competitive and evolving markets. We have helped our clients access the capital markets to gain the fuel to drive many next-generation healthcare ideas and initiatives to realization.

Our corporate finance skills are also an outgrowth of Nelson Hardiman's adept operational and turnaround work for hospitals and healthcare systems. We apply this same expertise for all healthcare providers, professionals, and start-ups to gain the edge in capital transactions. As a consequence, Nelson Hardiman has become a go-to firm when capital raising is required.
