Good Documentation Enables Addiction Treatment Providers to Better Care for Clients

Nelson Hardiman Partner Kathryn F. Edgerton (Russo) presented on the legal and financial implications of inadequate clinical documentation at the American Addiction Treatment Association Seminar on January 24, 2018. In this clip, Kathryn emphasizes that keeping good documentation enables addiction treatment providers to spend more time delivering care to their clients.