

Health Care Lawyer Duo Joins Nelson Hardiman from Hooper Lundy in LA

Hope Levy-Biehl and Stacie Neroni were featured in today's Daily Journal article titled, "Health Care Lawyer Duo Joins Nelson Hardiman from Hooper Lundy in LA."

From the article:

Health care lawyers Hope R. Levy-Biehl and Stacie K. Neroni joined Nelson Hardiman LLP as partners.

They moved from Hooper, Lundy & Bookman PC and started in their new jobs on Feb. 1.

"It's very rare that you get people with their level of expertise and experience at such a high-level shifting," said Harry Nelson, founder and managing partner of Nelson Hardiman.

Later, the article continues:

Levy-Biehl was attracted to Nelson Hardiman's reputation as a young, cutting edge health law boutique practice.

"I liked the idea of joining and having the opportunity to be part of the leadership and to help grow the regulatory practice here," she said.

Neroni said having a more manageable rate structure for her clients attracted her.

Unfortunately, the entire article is not available online.