Nelson Hardiman is pleased to announce that partners Harry

Nelson, Mark Hardiman and Zachary Rothenberg have been distinguished as Super Lawyers for 2017. All three attorneys were selected in the practice area of Health Care Law for the upcoming year.

Mr. Rothenberg commented on receiving this award: "After many years as a 'Rising Star,' I'm thrilled to join Harry and Mark as health care law Super Lawyers. There are many talented health care attorneys out there, so it really means a lot for all three of us to have been recognized by our peers as 'the best of the best.' Recognition like this, along with the firm having been named a Tier 1 health care firm locally and Tier 3 nationally in Best Lawyers® really highlights that Nelson Hardiman is at the forefront of health care law. We just added two new attorney and we are looking forward to even bigger and better things in the new year!"

This award is partly peer-nominated, with lawyers recognizing and voting for colleagues they have personally observed in action. An attorney-led research team then assigns points to each candidate based upon licensing, good standing with the state licensing agency, and no history of disciplinary action. The research staff also takes into consideration firm size, practice area and geographic location.

According to its website, Super Lawyers® bases its awards on "a high degree of peer recognition and professional achievement." After evaluating many attorneys' opinions and the research results, only lawyers with the highest point totals are placed on The Super Lawyers® list. Super Lawyers, part of Thomson Reuters, is a rating service recognizing outstanding lawyers who have attained a high-degree of peer recognition and professional achievement. The selection process includes independent research, peer nominations, and peer evaluations. Only five percent of the lawyers in the state are selected as Super Lawyers.

We congratulate Harry, Mark and Zachary on this honor and look forward to their continued success with the firm.
