PROFILE

Jennifer Langston combines a passion for the strategic interplay of litigation with a firm grasp of the regulatory foundation of healthcare law. A member of the firm's Litigation and Compliance groups, Jennifer focuses her practice on complex litigation and regulatory compliance for Nelson Hardiman's healthcare clients.

Thrives on Challenges of Healthcare Litigation

Adept at navigating the litigation process, Jennifer has a wide breadth of litigation experience. She drafts complaints, pleadings and motions, facilitates discovery, advises clients in settlement conferences and argues pre-trial motions. Jennifer is recognized for her ability to assess complex cases and explain intricate points of law to guide clients in the complicated arena of healthcare law and regulatory compliance. Jennifer leverages her background and experience to support key cases for the firm's litigation practice.

Before Nelson Hardiman

Jennifer's prior experience in litigation and healthcare law exposure gives her keen insights into the interplay of healthcare business operations and the ongoing challenges of regulatory compliance. Her tenure as a course facilitator for several core courses in the UCSF and UC Hastings Masters of Science in Health Policy and Law program underscores Jennifer's strong knowledge of the legal, political, economic, and social challenges to the U.S. healthcare system at the intersection of law, medicine and science.

Accolades

Jennifer was the recipient of the Wikin and Cali award for "A Regulatory Landscape of Physician and Patient Autonomy During End of Life Care in California"

Certifications

Jennifer is a Certified Information Privacy Professional in U.S. private-sector privacy laws and regulations (CIPP/US).

Life Outside the Firm

When she's not resolving thorny issues of healthcare law, Jennifer spends her time reacquainting herself with all that Los Angeles has to offer. Returning to her native city as an adult after a decade spent in Northern California, Jen enjoys exploring LA's trendy food scene and legendary comedy clubs.
